Your guide to our range of diplomas, awards, and courses.

PITMAN

T R A I N I N G

Advancing careers since 1837.

Training for real career progress

At Pitman Training, we help people build skills that lead to real outcomes.

From securing a first job to changing career, returning to work, or progressing at work, our training is designed around real outcomes, not just course completion.

Each student is backed by dedicated in-centre support, including experienced Learning Coaches and Career Advisors who guide them from day one through to completion and beyond.

Our training combines this human support with flexible learning, allowing students to study around work and life commitments while still benefiting from real guidance and accountability.

We deliver practical, career-focused training designed to build workplace-ready skills that can be applied immediately.

Learners don't choose Pitman just for a qualification. They choose it for progress, structure, and support that helps them get there.

Student of the Year: Real Results. Real Progress.

Isobel didn't just complete a course. She changed direction.

After starting in a kitchen role, Isobel completed the Event Management Diploma with distinction and progressed into new responsibilities at Junction 24 and Hawke Barn, becoming a key part of the team.

Her employer describes her as a crucial team member, with a strong work ethic and proactive mindset.

Her story shows what practical training, determination and the right support can achieve.

- Increase staff efficiency
- Maximise business productivity
- Enhance profit growth
- Attribute defined ROI to the training budget
- Maintain and grow staff loyalty
- Achieve Continuing Professional Development (CPD) targets for staff

Our Training

We offer several different types of training, which vary in duration and training method:

- Diplomas: These programmes contain a collection of core and elective courses designed to match to specific career paths and provide the necessary workplace skills.
- Awards: A condensed version of the diplomas, our awards are designed to help you gain skills required for specific careers.
- Courses: These are specialist subjects, focusing on one particular subject. Our courses are designed to help you learn a new skill or update existing knowledge.
- Seminars: Our seminar range is regularly updated and can also be tailored to specific business requirements, depending on the group size and location. The majority of our workshops are single-day sessions.

Continuing Professional Development

No matter how established you are in your career, learning should never stop. By undertaking professional CPD-accredited training you're making a valuable investment that demonstrates the commitment and drive you have to succeed in your career.

The CPD Standards Office

CPD PROVIDER: 21121

How to choose the right course for you or your staff

The Pitman Training approach to providing you with career advice and guidance on training is a simple one. We always invite anyone who contacts us to come in to the nearest training centre and meet with one of our Course Advisors. We'll set some time aside to find out about your career aims, your current skills, what you hope to achieve and when you want to get started.

We then review our extensive programme of diplomas, awards and courses to identify and recommend the best option for you. Often the recommendation is tailored to ensure you learn the specific skills you need to successfully progress your career. We will also confirm the course fees for your recommended study programme. We'll discuss the various payment options we can provide and take into account your budget for investing in your career.

Your future career and the training you choose are such important decisions that setting some time aside to meet with a Course Advisor is a vital first step. As our training centres are open daytime and in the evenings, we'll be able to fit you in and you won't be kept waiting. It really is that simple, so give us a call on 1800 532632. We look forward to meeting you.

We place great importance on what our students tell us about their Pitman training experience and our student survey last year confirmed that our approach to learning is an essential part of the process to ensure you make an informed decision. The ratings we received in other areas made it clear that what we offer at Pitman Training really does work. Make Pitman Training work for you!

Office & Secretarial

Our range of secretarial courses will provide you with the skills needed to work as a secretary across multiple sectors, and provide accurate outputs with ease.

“ I chose the Executive Assistant Diploma at Pitman Training Edinburgh because of its strong reputation and the range of practical skills it offered. While studying alongside my full-time job, I received two promotions and gained the confidence to apply for Executive Assistant roles. The support from my Learning Coach played a huge part in helping me achieve a distinction. ”

James

Pitman Training is instantly recognisable as the top training provider for anyone looking to gain reputable, top-quality secretarial skills.

Secretarial courses have always been a core focus at Pitman Training and they remain so, and as technology has progressed, so too have our courses to enable more flexible ways of learning. Employers value the Pitman Training secretarial qualifications — we have many happy students now in employment who can tell you so.

Whatever industry you want to build a career in, office skills will be a valuable asset. Whether you're looking for a career as an Executive Assistant, Personal Assistant (PA), Office Manager, or you'd just like to improve your administration skills as you build your business, strong secretarial skills are always beneficial.

Secretarial positions are often a stepping stone to other roles within an organisation, so it's also worth considering this, when looking to develop your career ladder.

Secretarial and administrative skill requirements do change as technology and office environments progress, so it's important to keep abreast of best practices and latest developments.

Our courses are regularly updated to ensure you will be current and up-to-date with your knowledge. We offer our students the opportunity to gain practical, hands-on experience throughout their studies to ensure they are armed with top-level secretarial and administration skills.

As well as studying in any of our Pitman Training centres, we also offer students the option to study our secretarial training courses online with our distance learning system, meaning you can fit your studies around your current commitments. Flexibility is key to all our training.

Whether you are a new or experienced secretary, professional development is key to enhancing your career. Our office and secretarial course range is sure to provide you with methods that will increase your productivity and overall output.

Career Roadmap

Our roadmap helps to provide guidance for the skills required in each sector outlined. These are for illustration purposes only, our Course Advisors can provide a tailored plan to suit your goals.

Virtual Assistant (VA) Diploma

This diploma is for anyone wanting to work as a Virtual Assistant (VA). You will gain excellent skills to ensure you provide a good office support service, and also the skills required to be able to run and market your own business.

If you're looking to become a Virtual Assistant and offer a flexible office support service from the comfort of your own home office, this is absolutely the best diploma choice for you. This role can be wide-ranging and as you'll be working with a number of different clients no two days are the same.

A Virtual Assistant can often be a saviour to a sole trader or small business. When it's essential to keep overheads as low as possible, utilising the services of a Virtual Assistant is one of the most sensible business decisions they might make.

Working for yourself as a Virtual Assistant offers a unique and varied career opportunity. You'll be your own boss, so you'll be able to set your working patterns as you wish. Many businesses don't need a full-time PA or Administrator so, rather than pay out a monthly salary, they will often utilise the services of a VA on an as and when needed basis and simply pay for what they need.

The areas in which you can support a business are varied. You might help them deal with their admin and general office workload, manage their social media accounts or maintain the company's financial records. It all depends on what their needs are.

Medical Admin Diploma

This diploma will arm you with the key skills required to work either as a Medical Receptionist or Medical Administrator. You'll also have the opportunity to gain Pitman Training Medical Administrator certification that is widely recognised by hospitals, surgeries and healthcare practices throughout Ireland.

Working in the medical sector is interesting, challenging and rewarding — you'll need to be super-efficient with top IT skills, but also possess discretion, patience and empathy. The Medical Admin Diploma will teach you all the vital skills you need to be the welcoming and efficient face of a medical practice or department.

You'll learn medical terminology covering a range of specialisms and general medical practice. You'll combine this with the very best office admin skills, including learning Microsoft Office software and SharePoint, and Teams. You'll also have the option to choose from an elective choice of additional subjects, including Successful Meetings and Minutes and Audio Transcription.

The Medical Admin Diploma offers you the best of both worlds — all the skills you need to work in an office environment, plus specialist knowledge designed to help you thrive as a Medical Administrator. You will also learn about accruals and the role of capital and reserves. The final lesson considers profit margins, analysing a profit-and-loss statement and how to make comparisons of financial statements.

Microsoft Office

A competency in Microsoft Office is essential if you want to keep up to date with the skills demanded by employers and progress your career.

“ At first, it was tough, James admits. But I knew Excel was a critical skill if I wanted to work in data, so I dedicated extra time and practice to really understand it. ”

James

Microsoft Office is the most widely used software suite in the vast majority of business and office environments. Employers and offices across the world use this range of programs to manage their business activities on a day-to-day basis.

Sometimes underrated, the skills and in-depth knowledge of how to best utilise these programs are often specifically sought out on CVs; therefore keeping your Microsoft skills refreshed and up to date will benefit your career considerably.

We provide a comprehensive range of Microsoft Office training courses that are respected by employers. Each training programme is designed to teach you a thorough understanding of the functionality available from Microsoft Office programs. Depending on your preferences, you can gain a comprehensive understanding of the range as a whole by studying one of our diplomas or by gaining Microsoft Office Specialist (MOS) - Associate certification. Alternatively you could opt to concentrate on one individual application, such as Excel, Word, PowerPoint, Outlook or Access.

Training is also available at an expert skill level. Many people only use these programs to a fraction of their capacity so learning the more in-depth features could make you more efficient and productive. If you can already find your way around Word or Excel, how about looking at the expert level courses to improve your knowledge and skills further?

If your company is looking to update their software to the latest version or if you're changing your role and want to be able to showcase your skills across different versions, our training can help you learn the new features and improvements in the latest versions.

The training is flexible to study and you work at a pace that suits you. The courses teach you using live versions of the programs in order to enhance your learning experience and give you hands-on, workplace ready skills.

Career Development

If you're looking for a new career or to develop skills to make an impact in your current role, we offer a range of courses that will boost motivation and help you progress.

Personal and career development is not always just about learning new technical skills; how you develop your interpersonal skills is vital too. We recognise the importance employers place on these 'softer' skills and offer a range of self and career development training courses to help you in key areas such as time management and productivity.

Time spent reviewing and developing your career is something we strongly recommend; you should do it at least once a year! This ensures you don't become bored or stuck in your comfort zone in your current career. If you dedicate time to learning new skills, the investment you're making in your career will ensure you remain happy in your work and growing professionally.

Pitman English Diploma

Are you looking for work and need to improve your English language skills?

This is an online training course which will help you improve key English language areas: reading, listening, writing and speaking. At the very beginning of the course, you'll sit a Proficiency Assessment test to ascertain your current skill level. From here, you'll get straight into the course, choosing units or subject areas you find interesting and relevant to you. To ensure you're studying at the appropriate level, you'll resit the Proficiency Assessment at regular intervals in your study to track and monitor your progress. The course level will then advance as appropriate.

You can study up to three units at any one time. The topic of the units is your choice, and there is a wide selection available. Each unit will comprise different activities, exercises and games, all designed to provide an interactive and enjoyable study experience.

One valuable resource you will have access to are the small group class sessions, which provide opportunities to practise speaking. These sessions will be vital to help you improve your English conversational skills. The combination of the study units, practice lessons, group classes and ongoing assessments will all assist you in building confidence in your English language skills.

Cloud Support Engineer Diploma with CompTIA

For anyone aspiring to a career in the dynamic area of IT infrastructure, this diploma is an excellent choice to gain skills in cloud computing administration and support.

Cloud computing is a fast-growing field with steady and strong demand in the IT labour market. Gaining the skills to work with the cloud could lead you to a rewarding career setting up, maintaining, and managing IT infrastructure.

What is a Cloud Support Engineer? A Cloud Support Engineer is an IT professional who sets up, configures, and maintains cloud infrastructure. As they advance in their careers, cloud engineers may also move into roles of greater responsibility that include cloud architecture (designing cloud solutions), development (coding for the cloud), and administration (managing cloud networks).

Cloud technology is already a fixture in our lives. Without realising it, you're likely using cloud-based services every day — whether it's watching videos and listening to music via streaming services or using a web-based email platform.

For businesses, cloud technology is making processes faster and more efficient. For example, the cloud makes backing up and storing company data easier, and software updates can be "pushed" to users as soon as they're ready. As a Cloud Support Engineer, your job will be to keep it all running.

The day-to-day tasks of a Cloud Support Engineer might include:

- Setting up and configuring cloud infrastructure
- Helping organisations migrate their computer systems to the cloud
- Monitoring cloud data storage services

As more and more companies move their infrastructure to the cloud, the teams and roles required to support these systems will grow. Gaining skills in this area will greatly enhance your employability in the IT sector.

Advanced Cloud Support Engineer Diploma with CompTIA

This diploma prepares aspiring and established IT professionals for more advanced positions in cloud computing.

Cloud computing is a fast-growing field with steady and strong demand in the IT labour market. Gaining the skills to work with the cloud could lead you to a rewarding career building, maintaining, and securing IT infrastructure.

As more and more companies move their infrastructure to the cloud, job openings in IT infrastructure increasingly include a requirement for cloud-computing training and experience. Such roles include systems engineer, network engineer, and database administrator.

For IT professionals the learning never stops, because the technologies we rely on are always changing and evolving. For this reason, it's key that anyone working in or aspiring to a job in IT infrastructure develop skills in these areas:

- Cloud platforms: Three key players in cloud infrastructure are Amazon Web Services (AWS), Microsoft Azure, and Google Cloud. This diploma offers training in all three.
- Data storage and security: Accessing, storing, and protecting data are each essential components of cloud computing covered in this programme.
- Networking: Having knowledge of networking basics will be valuable when integrating traditional networks with cloud services. If you do not already have a background in networking technology, consider adding Network+ or Server+ as an elective.
- Programming: Common languages used in cloud computing include Python and Java. Consider studying one of these languages to strengthen your skillset either as an elective with us or in the future as your career in cloud computing develops.

As more and more companies move their infrastructure to the cloud, the teams and roles required to support these systems will grow. Building a strong skill set in this area will greatly enhance your employability in the IT sector.

All Pitman Training Centres in Ireland are registered with Engineers Ireland as a provider of Continuing Professional Development training courses.

CompTIA

CompTIA's vendor-neutral certifications are a great way to break into the information technology field because they provide a broad knowledge base and are not limited to only one product or company. Let Pitman Training help you achieve CompTIA certification.

ICDL

The International Computer Driving Licence® (ICDL) is the International qualification that demonstrates competence in computer skills. Pitman Training centres offer ICDL. No prior knowledge of IT or computer skills is needed to study the ICDL.

Microsoft Office Specialist (MOS)

Microsoft Office courseware produced by Pitman Training follows the relevant Microsoft Office Specialist syllabus. Students may take a MOS test after successfully completing one of our Microsoft courses.
